Education	University of Southern California
	Department of Electrical Engineering	2003—2010
	PhD in Electrical Engineering. Advisors: Dr. Norberto M. Grzywacz (Neuroscience) and Dr. Jerry M. Mendel (Signal Processing)
	Neuroscience Graduate Program	2001—2003
	Studies in Neuroscience.
	Department of Electrical Engineering	2000—2003
	MS in Electrical Engineering.
	Universidad de Buenos Aires
	“Licenciatura (equivalent to MS)” in Computer Science.	1995—1998
	BS in Computer Science.	1992—1995
Academic Experience	Gatsby Computational Neuroscience Unit
	University College London	June 2019—
	Position: Research Engineer Fellow.
	The Truccolo Lab for Computational Neuroscience
	Brown University	August 2017—January 2019
	Position: Research Associate.
	Instituto en Luz Ambiente y Vision
	Universidad Nacional de Tucumán, Argentina	November 2013—Present
	Positions: External researcher.
	Swartz Center for Computational Neuroscience
	University of California San Diego	November 2010—July 2017
	Positions: Postdoctoral and visiting scholar,
	University of Southern California
	Position: Research Assistant.	2001—2010
	Advisors: Dr. Norberto M. Grzywacz. Director, Neuroscience Graduate Program. Professor, Department of Biomedical Engineering. Dr. Jerry Mendel. Professor, Department of Electrical Engineering.
	University of Southern California
	Position: Research Assistant.	August 2000—August 2001
	Advisor: Dr. Richard M. Leahy. Professor, Department of Electrical Engineering.
Teaching Experience	Brown University	September 2017—December 2017
	Course: NEUR2110 Statistical Neuroscience
	Role: Graded homeworks and addressed questions from students related to course material.
	University of Southern California	January 2009—May 2009
	Course: EE 364: Introduction to Probability and Statistics for Electrical Engineering and Computer Science. Evaluations available upon request.
	Role: Discussion section leader.

Universidad de Buenos Aires
Course: Numerical Linear Algebra.
Role: Teaching Assistant.

August 1999—December 1999

Universidad de Buenos Aires
Course: Artificial Intelligence.
Role: Teaching Assistant.

August 1998—August 1999

Service Vision Research, Frontiers in Neuroscience, Journal of Perceptual Imaging
Ad hoc reviewer.

Funding Center for Brain Activity Mapping 2013—2014
Principal investigator, grant 2013-023CBAM
Taking the next step toward understanding computations by neural ensembles with high resolution neural recordings, generic data assimilation methods, and increased computational power.

Selected Courses University of Southern California
Mathematics: Topology, Fundamental Concepts of Analysis, Real Analysis (audited), Functional Analysis (audited). Engineering: Transform Theory for Engineers, Random Processes in Engineering, Introduction to Digital Signal Processing, Computational Solution to Optimization Problems, Information Theory, Statistics for Engineers. Neuroscience: Control and Communication in the Nervous System, Neurobiology, Advanced Neurosciences I, Advanced Neurosciences II.

Industry Experience IBM Almaden Research Center
Position: Staff Software Engineer January 2000—August 2000

Oracle, Argentina
Position: Software Engineer June 1998—September 1998

IBM, Argentina
Position: Fellowship holder September 1997—June 1998

IBM Almaden Research Center
Position: Fellowship holder October 1996—September 1997

IBM, Argentina
Position: Fellowship holder April 1994—October 1996

Programming Languages R, Python, Matlab, Java, C/C++, Smalltalk, Pascal, Assembler.
